1. This is the term refers to the use of banned athletic performance-enhancing drugs by athletic competitors in competitive sports which is against the spirit of sports is:
   (a) Doping  (b) Enhancing  (c) Entrancing  (d) Activating

2. The Russian five-time Grand Slam champion Maria Sharapova on 7 March 2016 announced that she had been notified by the International Tennis Federation (ITF) of a positive drug test during the Australian Open in January 2016. The whole issue is associated with a drug or a substance use by athletes with the intention of enhancing performance. Name this drug or the substance added to the WADA’s list of prohibited substances in the start of this year.
   (a) Mestanolone  (b) Meldonium  (c) Methandriol  (d) Methasterone

3. A famous case of AAS (Anabolic-Androgen Steroids) use in a competition by the Jamaican-born Canadian former sprinter Ben Johnson’s victory in the 100 m at the 1988 Summer Olympics which was later rescinded because he subsequently failed the drug test when a banned steroid was found in his urine. Name the substance commonly sold under the name Winstrol (oral) and Winstrol Depot (intramuscular) which is commonly used as performance-enhancing drug.
   (a) Stenbolone  (b) Oxabolone  (c) Stanozolol  (d) Nandrolone

4. The World Anti-Doping Agency (WADA) prohibited list is the comprehensive document serving as the international standard for identifying substances and methods prohibited in sport. A substance gets considered for the WADA Prohibited List when the said substance has the following feature(s).
   (a) It has the potential to enhance sport performance
   (b) It represents an actual or potential health risk to the athlete
   (c) It violates the spirit of sport
   (d) All the statements are correct
5. Floyd Landis was the initial winner of the 2006 Tour de France. The International Cycling Union stripped him of his 2006 Tour de France title and the Second place finisher Óscar Pereiro was officially declared the winner because urine sample taken from Landis immediately after his Stage 17 win was twice tested positive for banned synthetic:
(a) Tetrahydrogestrinone  (b) Trenbolone
(c) Trimetazidine       (d) Testosterone

6. Marion Lois Jones, also known as Marion Jones-Thompson, is an American former world champion track and field athlete. She won 3 gold medals and 2 bronze medals at the 2000 Summer Olympics in Sydney, Australia, but was later stripped of the titles after admitting to steroid use. Below are the examples of the performance enhancing steroid except:
(a) Adrafinil
(b) Tetrahydrogestrinone
(c) Prednisolone
(d) Amphetaminil

7. Alexander Leipold is a German former freestyle wrestler who won the German Championships eleven times, the European Championships three times and the World Championships in 1994. Leipold won the tournament at the 2000 Summer Olympics but was later stripped of his gold medal because he was tested positive for norandrosterone and
(a) Etamivan
(b) Norethiocholanolone
(c) Tuaminoheptane
(d) Pethidine

8. Andre Agassi is an American retired professional tennis player and has been called the greatest service returner in the history of the game. He is an eight time Grand Slam champion and a 1996 Olympic gold medalist in single tennis. This first male player who has won 4 Australian Open titles confessed that he started using a banned drug crystal
(a) Methamphetamine
(b) Stenbolone
(c) Zilpaterol
(d) Bolasterone

9. Kim Jong-su is a North Korean sport shooter who competed at the 2004 Summer Olympics in Athens and 2008 Summer Olympics in Beijing. In Beijing, he won a silver medal in 50 metre pistol and a bronze medal in 10 metre air pistol, but was later disqualified for doping and stripped of both medals because the International Olympic Committee announced that he had tested positive for the banned substance called:
(a) Propranolol
(b) Prostanozol
(c) Furazabol
(d) Prasterone

10. Two Indians found themselves in the list of Olympic offenders in Athens 2004. Sanamacha Chanu and Pratima Kumari, both weightlifters, were packed off at Athens 2004 after they were tested positive for banned drugs. Pratima had high levels of testosterone. Chanu, winner of gold medal at the 2002 CWG was tested positive with:
(a) Furazabol
(b) Furosemide
(c) Formebolone
(d) Norclostebol

Answers:
1) a 2) b 3) c 4) d 5) d 6) c 7) b 8) a 9) a 10) b

Contributed by Mayanglambam Ojit Kumar Singh, Assistant Professor, Zoology Department, Ramjas College, Maurice Nagar, Delhi University, Delhi 110007